ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE'S RULING ON NOTICE OF INTENT TO CLAIM COMPENSATION

On June 10, 2002, The Utility Reform Network (TURN) filed a notice of intent to claim compensation. The notice is timely because it was filed within 30 days of the prehearing conference.

TURN states that it is a customer because it is a non-profit consumer advocacy organization whose articles of incorporation authorize it to represent the interests of residential customers.

TURN will address the assumptions on which the annual revenue requirements for nuclear decommissioning trust funds are based.

TURN estimates its costs at $30,000.

TURN asserts that it received a finding of significant financial hardship in Application 01-09-003, by an administrative law judge's ruling dated December 19, 2001. Therefore, TURN states that this ruling created a rebuttable presumption of financial hardship.

No party has filed in opposition to TURN's notice.

TURN has satisfied the requirements for eligibility.

Therefore, IT IS RULED that:

1. The Utility Reform Network is eligible to file a claim for compensation in this proceeding.
2. Eligibility to claim compensation does not ensure that compensation will be awarded.

Dated July 2, 2002, at San Francisco, California.
